

Joshua P Matheus
Technology Management

Josh manages Network Engineering. Previously, he managed Data-center Networking and Network Security. Prior to that, he managed Network Architecture from 2010 to 2012. Earlier in his career, Josh held roles specializing in electronic trading network systems and market data. Josh joined Goldman Sachs in 2000 as an associate in Network Engineering in Investment Banking Division Technology. He was named managing director in 2017.

Josh serves on the Board of Directors for the Open Compute Project, Barefoot Networks, Vapor.io, and Pensando.

Josh earned a BS in Computer Science from Marist College in 1999.